

The International Ocean Film Tour Vol. 11

Powerful Stories, Timely Topics

The Ocean Film Tour is back! Once again, we are giving films a platform and voices to people whose stories deserve to be heard—stories that inspire, impress, and must be shared. One such story is Row of Life, which follows Angela Madsen, a former Paralympian who had already achieved and endured so much, yet risked everything once more for her final, greatest adventure—her lifelong dream.

Kelp! is a documentary about the powerful potential of kelp—seaweed that could revolutionize agriculture, fisheries, and biofuels. Nika is an environmental portrait of an extraordinary bond between humans and animals, while Trilogy brings together three of the world's top surfers—Ethan Ewing, Griffin Colapinto, and Seth Moniz—in one breathtaking film. A particularly unique highlight is 7 Beats per Minute, featuring freediver Jesse Lu, who shows how plunging into incredible depths can lead to remarkable personal heights.

The premiere takes place on February 24, 2025, in Hamburg at the Laeiszhalle, followed by over 180 screenings on tour. The program includes five films with a total runtime of approximately 120 minutes, and with live hosting and additional features, each event lasts between 2.5 to 3 hours.
